LOPPED OFF SEVENTEEN YEARS

Mrs. Jones, at 52, Looks 35, and Rides Horseback as Well as She Ever Could, Thanks to Cardui.

Onawa, Iowa.—Mrs. Anna Jones, of this place, says: "I used to be troubled with a weakness peculiar to women. For nearly a year, I could not walk, without holding my sides with my hands. I tried several different treatments, but was never even relieved. I told my husband I believed I was being experimented on."

Finally, our druggist advised Cardui, the woman's tonic, for my complaint. I was so thin, my weight was 115. Now I weigh 163, and I am never sick. I ride horseback as well as I ever could. I am in fine health, at 52 years, thanks to Cardui. Some think I am about 35. It was Cardui, the woman's tonic, that built me up. If I ever need a medicine for womanly troubles, I shall use Cardui, for it is certainly all that is claimed for it."

Are you getting old before your time—moping around with hollow eyes, drooped shoulders, no life to do anything? Brace up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has brought the glow of health to many thousands of women's faces, and made them glad to be alive, as is proven by the numerous letters similar to the above, we receive every day.

Ask your druggist about Cardui. He knows it's good. [JB-4] of the country, and also the writer, I will write a few line to THE PRESS.

I have just landed in Kansas where the sun shines and the golden wheat waves in the gentle (?) breeze. Where health, wealth and happiness crown the honest efforts of him who tickles the virgin soil of the great southwest. Of course the gentle breeze just mentioned is strong enough some times to make a man swing to a gate post or something solid to keep his place on terra firma. It will also cause a fellow to pull his hat down so tight on his head that he looks like he was trying to crawl into a hole. Some times one will phone to his neighbor two miles away to look out for his hat. Very "gentle," is it not?

If you wish to come to Kansas I do not object, but remember, the writer has not signed any contract to stay very long.

On the farm where I am at work, A. L. Hall has six hundred acres in wheat, twenty in oats, one hundred and fifty for corn and about forty acres for other crops. He threshed about 15,000 bushels of wheat last year.

Wheat is looking fairly well now, but the cool weather has kept it back this spring.

The farmers are expecting good corn crops this year.

A good rain fell today which will help the growing wheat.

Miss Agnes Dolin of New York is visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. L. Hall. She expects to remain in Kansas thru the summer.

Health seems to be good here.

Deferred Devotion

After a period of six months of widowhood, Bridget consented to again enter the married state. Some weeks after she was led to the altar, says London Tit-Bits, her old mistress met her in the street dressed in the deepest mourning.

"Why Bridget," she exclaimed, "for whom are you in black?"

"For poor Barney, my first husband, mum. When he died I was that poor Oi couldn't afford to buy mourning, but Oi said if ever Oi could Oi would, and me new man, Tim, is as generous as a lord."
